Image Audiovisuals Lands Colorado Convention Center Pact

DENVER (Nov. 23, 2009) – Denver-based Image Audiovisuals, the region’s most recognized provider of full audiovisual services, has been named the preferred in-house AV provider by SMG for the Colorado Convention Center.

The contract, projected as the largest in Image AV’s 21-year history, puts Image AV at the forefront of all audiovisual services for the biggest facility of its kind in the 12-state region. The Colorado Convention Center, privately managed by SMG, is the 16th largest in the nation; and its 2.2 million square feet sits on 14 acres of downtown Denver real estate. It is rated by the Watkins Study as the third best meetings facility in the nation.

As the Colorado Convention Center’s preferred in-house AV provider, Image AV will serve the Convention Center’s clients and visitors with a wide range of premier audiovisual solutions for exhibits, general and breakout sessions, special events and more. Image AV will utilize the newest in audio, video, multimedia production, web-streaming, audience polling and HDTV display technologies for the clients of the Convention Center.

“We are proud of Image AV’s reputation as the company that provides the finest in audio-visual and presentation technology services in the Colorado meetings industry,” said Diana Mueller, CEO of Image AV. “We look forward to contributing to the Colorado Convention Center’s reputation as one of the premier meeting facilities in the nation.”
